City to Let Townships Proceed Separately on Interceptor Sewer Plan

Consulting engineers for Granite City's secondary sewage treatment program have been instructed to bypass for the time being any detailed planning for construction of interceptor sewer lines necessary to handling sewage discharge and treatment for the unincorporated areas of Quad-City townships, Mayor Donald Partney told the city council Monday night.

The announcement came after several aldermen criticized sponsors of the township sewer program for development of an alternative plan under which collector sewers proposed for construction in Nameoki, Venice and Chouteau townships could be connected for sewage treatment to the Landowne plant of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, rather than with the Granite City treatment plant.

Alderman Sam Whitmer told council members that since the townships were in a position to obtain treatment through the levee district plant, Granite City could eliminate construction of interceptors from its programming and therefore save a lot of money.

"About $3.5 million," the mayor commented.

Urges Plan Restriction
Whitmer then suggested that the M. W. Architects-Engineers, Inc., the city's engineers for the treatment program, be instructed to work only on plans for construction of the secondary sewage treatment plant.

"I've already done that," Mayor Partney said.

Alderman Steve Basarich noted that the city several months ago signed an agreement with the township group to permit the townships to tie into Granite City's treatment facilities so that the township sponsors could build a system of collector sewers in the unincorporated areas of the townships, urged the city to break the pact.

"We signed an agreement with the townships and now they've got other plans," Basarich said. "Our attorney should be instructed to break that agreement. We ought to notify them and then break off."

Whitmer pointed out that construction of interceptor lines set up in the city's original preliminary planning for its $15.3 million secondary sewage treatment program were to serve the township collector sewers.

Let Them Sit
"If they (the townships) have another way to go, then there would be no need for Granite City to build interceptor sewers. We would get out that much cheaper. Since they have their plans, we should just let them sit," Whitmer said.

The discussion also followed presentation of a communication from the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council notifying the city of Gateway's approval of plans to upgrade sewage treatment, but of a delay in approving city plans for interceptor lines until all of the township program is presented.

The township engineers announced last week that three alternative programs for the township sewer construction will be ready for presentation by Feb. 15.

Differences between the city and the township over construction of interceptor sewers result from the apparent desire of both groups to build the interceptors.

Granite City's M. W. engineering firm is now preparing detailed plans for a secondary sewage treatment program which state and federal authorities say must be in operation not later than Dec. 31, 1973.

The city originally included plans for interceptor lines to serve the township sewer systems at a cost said by city officials to approximate $3.5 million.

At the time the township and principal at the high school, and was assistant superintendent and director of vocational and industrial education prior to his appointment to the top administrative post.

A native of Moline, he was graduated from August College at Rock Island in 1925 and obtained his master's degree in 1950 at the University of Washington. He taught in Michigan City, Ind., for four years before coming to Granite City.

Meanwhile, an initial meeting of parents of children who will be attending the new school was called by the Teacher-Search Team for 7:30 p.m. Feb. 22 in the Nameoki School cafeteria.

The meeting is designed to discuss briefly with the parents the physical structure, the program to be offered and to answer questions.

group effected an agreement with Granite City for use of its treatment facilities to handle sewage from the three townships, the township engineers also indicated their preference to include interceptor construction along with their planning and cost arrangements.

Townships to Pay
At the rate, the townships agreed to give Granite City approximately 20% of its overall construction cost if Granite City insisted on building the interceptors.

The township officials, pointing out their need for sewage treatment, agreed also to go along with Granite City under either plan. As a result, township engineers prepared two plans — one under which the townships would build both the collector sewer systems in the unincorporated areas and the interceptors, and a second under which the townships would build only the collector systems, with Granite City constructing the interceptors.

On this basis, city officials signed a commitment to provide treatment for the townships.

Last week, however, the township officials announced development of an alternative program which provides for construction of the interceptor sewers and the collector systems, with a tie-in for treatment with the levee district's Landowne plant, located in Nameoki.

Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab, Granite City engineers handling the township programming, listed the estimates showing the levee district connection as the most economical plan. In other developments of the city's treatment project Monday night, Alderman Walter Nomm, attending his first meeting since an absence of two months because of illness, told the council:

Better Get Together
"We had better get together and get rolling on this treatment project. It's time we forget our differences. The finance committee should look into financing and we should get our plans in shape. This is a serious problem."

The M. W. engineering firm also presented the council with a bill for $48,450 for work on detailed planning. The council placed the bill on file.

Alderman Whitmer asked if "any thought has been given to a bond issue. It looks like every dollar is going into the red and regular city funds can not stand all the cost."

A bond issue has been suggested as the only way the city can meet initial costs of the treatment program, although no action has yet been taken to initiate a bond sale. Present estimates call for about $1 million in bonds.

In response to Whitmer's remarks, about the bond issue, Nomm said:

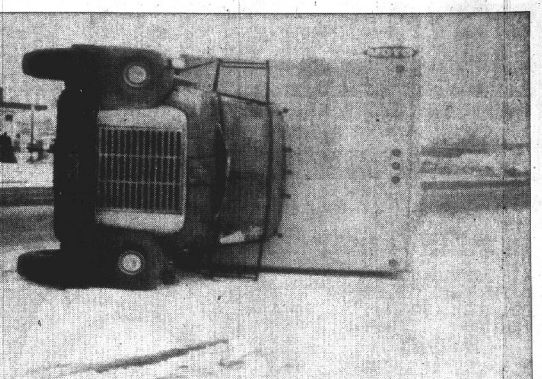

"If you are referring to the committee (the Pollution Plant Committee of which Nomm is chairman) you can count me out. If there is anyone here who wants the chairmanship of the committee, he can have it. I've been in the hospital and have the buildings.

OVERTURNED TRUCK of Cairnir E. Fisher, St. Louis, lies on its side on Route 203 just south of the McCambridge Avenue viaduct following a three-vehicle accident on the icy highway at 8:40 a.m. yesterday. State Trooper Leo Sprankle, standing near the truck, reported five accidents occurred at that point in two hours yesterday morning. The mishap was one of many reported throughout the Quad-City area due to ice glazed streets.

Close Margins In Board Races

"Things equal to the same things are equal to each other," mathematics textbooks say. But Madison County's new equal-population County Board districts produced widely varying primary turnouts on Tuesday.

A canvass yesterday confirmed all the unofficial totals.

Quad-City area Democratic nomination winners were: District 16, Albert Doerz over Walter Sparks, incumbent, 594 to 489; District 15, William Webb, incumbent, over Ford Johnson, 407 to 170; District 14, Carl Buehler, incumbent, over Carl Rouch, 405 to 239; District 13, Homer Bookman, over David Huckla, incumbent, 431 to 300; and District 12, Louis Whittell, incumbent, over Edgar Patrick, 660 to 615.

Republican primary write-in nominees opposing them on the ballots April 4 will be: District 16, Ferdinand Segar, 10 votes; No. 19, Walter Emde, 17 votes; No. 21, Jess Parks, 14 votes; No. 25, Melvin Jones, 13 votes; and No. 26, William Keller, five votes.

Three of the four Quad City township supervisors are still in the running to remain on the County Board after it is reduced from 49 to 28 districts this spring.

and after there is no direct link between county and township elective offices.

"They are Nelson Hagauer of Granite City and Arthur W. Moore of Venice Township — neither involved in a primary fight — and Supervisor Whittell of Nameoki Township."

Sparks remains supervisor of Chouteau Township but was defeated in a runoff election on the County Board by Tuesday's five-vote margin.

Doerz won in Sparks 130-57, 57-50 and 75-42; Chouteau 2-57, while Sparks led 116-97, 87-40, 52-38 and 95-47 in Chouteau 1-44 and Nameoki 1-44.

Levee Board Convictions Reversed

The St. Clair County Circuit Court conviction of four trustees of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District on charges of misconduct in office was reversed yesterday by the Fifth District Appellate Court at Mount Vernon.

The ruling cleared the four trustees—one of whom has died since the September 1970 conviction—of all five counts of an indictment that charged the levee board paid excessive fees to district attorneys during the 1969 fiscal year in violation of state statutes and that they failed to call bids on nearly $170,000 worth of repairs to tunnels extending under the riverfront levees in East St. Louis.

Notice of the Appellate Court ruling was received by Harry Hartman of Venice, a levee engineer.

Shopping Center Plan Approved

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer
The Granite City Council approved on final passage Monday night—without a word of discussion and without a single dissenting vote—an ordinance that clears the way for construction of a $1.5 million shopping center complex in the Nameoki-Pontoon area.

The action was in contrast to council consideration of the bill in at least three previous meetings in which a vote on final passage was delayed because some aldermen believed the city should be paid for vacating several short sections of unused streets necessary to the shopping center tract.

The ordinance provides for vacating short sections of Manley and Amos avenues, a two-block stretch of Kummamann Avenue and an alley area, all located at the edge of the proposed shopping center area west of Nameoki Road.

Proposed for construction in the shopping center complex are a Schnuck's market, Carp's Department Store and other retail establishments. It is to be built on the southwest quadrant of the intersection of Nameoki and Pontoon Roads.

Henry Ross, Granite City contractor and a member of the developing group, said the council's action Monday night removes all major obstacles to construction of the center. A Kansas City interest which had guaranteed financing for the project required vacating the streets as part of its agreement, Ross said.

Ross said further vacating of additional small portions of Manley and Amos avenues will be asked of the city council in another ordinance to be presented to the city council in its next meeting Feb. 21, but that the essential requirements of the building plan were met with adoption of the ordinance by the council Monday night.

Plans for development of the shopping center have been underway since 1968 in a move spearheaded by Ross and the Schnuck's and Carp's organizations.

The streets vacated by adoption of the ordinance Monday night were described by the developers as "paper" streets.

Grade School Named for Supt. Russell Johnson

By MARION BARTOSIAK
Press-Record Staff Writer

The new elementary school under construction in the Granite City School District is designated as the Russell D. Johnson Elementary School in memory of the late superintendent and veteran educator in the district.

The name was selected by the Board of Education at its meeting Monday night. A name has yet to be chosen for the new high school for which construction contracts are to be obtained soon.

Mr. Johnson served as superintendent for 2½ years until he died at the age of 65 of an unexpected heart attack on Nov. 11, 1966.

He was part of the Granite City school system 40 years, starting as a mathematics teacher in 1926 at Community High School.

Advancing through the ranks, he was faculty manager of athletics, assistant principal and principal at the high school, and was assistant superintendent and director of vocational and industrial education prior to his appointment to the top administrative post.

A native of Moline, he was graduated from August College at Rock Island in 1925 and obtained his master's degree in 1950 at the University of Washington. He taught in Michigan City, Ind., for four years before coming to Granite City.

Meanwhile, an initial meeting of parents of children who will be attending the new school was called by the Teacher-Search Team for 7:30 p.m. Feb. 22 in the Nameoki School cafeteria.

More SIU-SW Housing Sought

Three proposals for construction of a 248-unit, 1,000-bed cooperative living project on the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus are expected to be presented to the SIU Board of Trustees Friday.

The meeting has been changed from Carbondale to SIU-SW.

D. J. Hudgens, vice-president for business affairs, said today that the proposals, to be made by developers, will be for three projects built to the same general specifications used in the existing Tower Lakes complex. The new units would be built on a 30-acre tract north of the present complex.

Hudgens said he anticipates the SIU Foundation would take title to the land on which the living units are to be built, and that the foundation would arrange interim financing for construction of the residence halls. The university would take over the property from the foundation upon completion of construction and would operate, manage and maintain the housing. SIU would authorize a revolving bond issue to finance the buildings.

Accidents Soar as Ice, Snow Plague Motorists

Snow and ice plagued motorists and resulting traffic accidents plagued police as sub-freezing temperatures accompanied by precipitation lingered in the Quad-City area this week.

Highways in the area were dangerous, resulting in numerous accidents, particularly on the south approach of the McCambridge Avenue viaduct.

Two accidents there involved three vehicles Wednesday morning, and in one a 2½-ton truck overturned, blocking the outside lane. State Trooper Leo Sprankle reported he had called for a salt truck at 7:45 a.m. and it did not arrive until 9:30 a.m.

Damaged autos littered state roads and ditches, and an El Jay transport truck carrying jet fuel jackknifed and overturned at 7:40 a.m. on highway 111, spilling fuel onto the pavement.

Highway Closed
The highway was closed between Chain of Rocks Road and Roxana until the Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department spent two hours cleaning up the area. Though accident reports came in rapid fire order in Granite City, none was reported in Venice and only a few were made in Madison.

A total of 38 accidents in Granite City was attributed to

WM. EBERSOLD Conviction Reversed

Appointment of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab, Granite City engineering firm, to serve as the city's public engineer, Monday night by a majority of city council members Monday night.

The appointment was announced by Mayor Donald Partney who specified the engineering firm would handle city engineering matters until the end of the current fiscal year on April 30.

He asked the council to concur in the appointment to provide engineering services under which you have an opportunity to do and have a majority of city council members later this year.

Voting against the appointment were Aldermen Walter Nomm, Gerald Parmley and Emerald Daves. Voting in favor were Aldermen Paul Schuler, Alan Whitmer, William Dallas and Everett Morten. Alderman R. E. Robertson, who has been ill, was absent.

Nomm opposed the engineering firm on grounds that "they can't serve Bethalto, Venice, Mount Vernon and other cities and give us the same kind of service."

Special Meeting
City council members met in special session Jan. 31 in an effort to employ a motor fuel tax engineer and a city engineer. The aldermen at that time voted to employ the M. W. Architects-Engineers, Inc. of St. Louis as MFT engineers, but took no definite action on hiring a city engineer.

Sheppard City's Public Engineer

Officials explained that the only difference between a city engineer and a "public" engineer as specified by the mayor Monday night is in the employment status. A public engineer is an employee of the city, while a city engineer is considered under the law as a city official. The duties of the two posts are identical.

Alderman Clyde Boyd of the council's Street and Alley Committee, told the council Monday night that terms of an agreement with the M. W. firm, under which the engineers will handle the city's street projects this year, had been worked out.

Referred to Mayor
The council then approved a motion by Boyd that the contract be given to Mayor Partney for his signature and then referred to the Illinois Division of Highways for approval.

Meanwhile the city clerk's office, acting on instructions received from the council in the Jan. 31 special meeting, has advertised in newspapers and engineering journals for a city engineer.

The new advertisements leave open the question of salary because most council members believe the $12,000 per year now in the city appropriation is far insufficient to attract a professional, fulltime engineer.

A COMMON SIGHT in the Quad-City area yesterday morning was cars, crumpled and mangled in accidents, being towed to garages for repairs. This auto was one of more than a dozen involved in five accidents at the foot of the McCambridge Avenue viaduct on Route 203.

City Sets $1.50 Daily Fee for Impounded Dogs

An ordinance raising to $1.50 per day the redemption fee for impounded dogs, plus a $1 release fee, was approved, on final passage by the Granite City Council Monday night in a controversial vote that was challenged by several aldermen.

The ordinance amends the Municipal Code which formerly set a pound fee of 20 cents per day for the period of time dogs were impounded before being redeemed by their owners. It sets out that the original fee did not meet county charges and those set throughout the state. The ordinance was presented by Alderman Roy Paulus who moved for suspension of rules to place the bill on final passage. Several aldermen challenged the higher cost and opposed the bill. On a roll call vote on the motion to suspend the rules, the vote was 9 to 4 in favor of suspension. A minimum of ten votes was required.

As a result, Mayor Donald Partney voted in favor under a rule which the mayor said permits him to vote when his vote will decide an issue. Alderman Gerald Farney said the two-third majority required for suspension of rules was limited to council members and that the mayor's vote was illegal. Mayor Partney declared the motion passed, however.

On a roll call vote for final passage six aldermen voted yes, four voted against and three aldermen said they were passing the vote. Mayor Partney ruled that in such instances all aldermen who passed must be declared voting on the majority side. He declared the ordinance passed.

MORE ABOUT Levee Board

district attorney, only a few hours after a scheduled special meeting of the levee board failed to materialize due to a lack of a quorum of at least three members necessary to conduct district business.

Lack of a quorum was a problem that has plagued the levee district since the death of Trustee George Duff last fall and the subsequent conviction of Trustee Morris Campbell on theft charges — resulted Wednesday from the absence of Lawrence Tolar, East St. Louis trustee who attempted to join with Campbell in January to replace William "Mike" Ebersold of Venice as president of the levee district board. Tolar did not appear at the special meeting he was ill.

Reverse All Counts Hartman said the Appellate Court ruling reversed three counts of an indictment charging levee district trustees with overpaying some of the district's attorneys, and two other counts which charged the trustees with violations of state statutes in that they did not call bids on work to repair two concrete tunnels which extend under the levees and which were in such a state of disrepair that the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers had demanded immediate action and held the levee district responsible for the work.

The Appellate Court decision, signed by Judges Edward Eberspacher, Charles E. Jones and Caswell J. Crebs, held that indictment counts charging the trustees with overpaying the attorneys failed to allege and the prosecution later failed to prove that the trustees were aware such payments were excessive, Hartman said.

In letting a contract for the tunnel repair work, the trustees acted in "ignorance or mistaken error" and did not profit from the contract, according to the higher court ruling. There was no "moral turpitude" involved and there was a preponderance of evidence that the awarding of a contract without bidding was done because an emergency existed. State law permits contract awards without bidding in emergency situations.

The misconduct convictions in September 1970 involved Ebersold, Tolar, Campbell and Duff. The fifth member of the levee board, Joseph Grant of Granite City, died in 1969. The four trustees were sentenced in circuit court at Belleville in December 1970 to fines of $1250 each, three years probation and removal from office.

The board members appealed the conviction and the sentence and in mid-December 1970 obtained an Appellate Court hearing a stay order which delayed their removal from office pending a decision on their appeal. The stay order later was upheld by the Illinois Supreme Court when St. Clair County State's Attorney Robert Rice sought unsuccessfully a reversal of the Appellate Court decision.

Meanwhile, Governor Richard B. Ogilvie ordered a special election in which five members of a new levee board—all Democrats—were elected in June 1971. They never took office. The convicted members of the board obtained an injunction on the basis of the Appellate Court stay order, and remained in office.

Duff died last September, reducing the present board to three members. Last month,

Dance Friday to Aid Joseph Gonzalez Fund

Patrons attending a public dance tomorrow evening at the Venice-Madison American Legion Hall will be aiding the Joseph Gonzalez Scholarship Fund.

The fund, in turn, benefits local young people needing to continue their education, according to Steve Ortiz, president of the Granite City Mexican Honorary Commission.

The commission established the fund last year in memory of Joseph Gonzalez, a Granite City High School teacher, who was fatally injured in an auto accident near Mitchell.

He was a member of the Mexican Honorary group and active in student affairs at the local high school.

Tickets for the dance, costing $1.50 per person, may be obtained at the door of the Legion Hall, 740 Broadway, Venice, starting at 8 p.m. Friday. Music will be furnished by Wayne Scannell and the Casuals.

Mike Alvarez, Metallurgist, general chairman, said a variety of Mexican food will be prepared and donated by Mrs. Maria Martinez, a sister of the late school teacher.

Mrs. Dora (Gonzalez) Darr, another sister of Mr. Gonzalez, will entertain with vocal selections, accompanied on the guitar by Barney Barby, a second vocalist. Maria Castillo Scannell, also will be featured.

All proceeds from the dance will be added to the scholarship fund, Mrs. Metcalf stated.

The special meeting was called to adopt a new budget which is necessary before a tax levy can be adopted. The district now is without funds to pay either payrolls or operational claims, and therefore must depend, as it usually does at this time of the year, upon the issuance of anticipation warrants.

The district cannot sell anticipation warrants, however, until the budget and a tax levy is adopted. So long as there is a delay in adoption of the budget and its publication, the tax levy cannot be passed, and anticipation warrants cannot be sold.

After Ebersold's death yesterday that there was no quorum for a meeting in which the budget could be approved, an other special session was scheduled for Friday, Feb. 18.

Nonn added that he has no intention of signing bonds, checks and other documents necessary to the treatment plant project. that are used except by the owners of only a few adjoining properties. These owners had agreed to vacating the streets.

Nevertheless, several Aldermen questioned the possibility of obtaining some form of remuneration from the developers in return for vacating the streets, citing previous instances in which Granite City Steel Co. bought the city a new fire truck for vacating streets behind the mill, and the trading of property owned by Granite City Steel Co. for the vacating of August Street about five years ago.

Services Wednesday for Mrs. Annie Rutledge, 88, of 185 Viola Jones Homes, Madison, were held at 8 p.m. yesterday at the Friendship Baptist Church, Madison.

Mrs. Rutledge, who died at St. Louis, is survived by her husband, Amos L. Rutledge; a daughter, Mrs. Jessie Rowe; two sons, Garret Adams and Lloyd Downey, both of Madison; three brothers, James B. For that reason the vacating ordinance was placed in first reading, rather than on final passage, in the council's Jan. 3 meeting. In subsequent meetings on Jan. 17 and 24, the council also delayed a final vote on the ordinance. In the Jan. 24 session, the council approved a motion that the value of the streets be appraised to determine their value.

No appraisal was available Monday night, however. Instead, the council received a letter from one person who had been requested to make an appraisal, and Mayor Donald Partney said he failed to hear from another firm that he had asked to determine the value of the streets.

Text of Letter
The letter directed to Mayor Partney, was sent by Ralph Morris of Morris Realty Co. It said:

"I am sorry I am not able to give you an appraisal on the streets and alley in the Namooki Area involved in a proposal to vacate now pending before the city council.

"As I mentioned in our initial telephone conversation and also after further thoughts on the proposed appraisal, I cannot honestly put a value on unimproved and unused streets which were dedicated to the public and now have a chance to be put back on the tax books in connection with a proposed improvement of the entire area.

"The thought of charging anyone for vacating these streets and alleys is beyond my comprehension and I am so opposed to it."

General Steel Cranemen Walkout Cuts Production

A wildcat strike by 15 crane-men at the Castings Division of General Steel Industries halted one-half of the production at the plant for several hours Tuesday.

The crane-men, members of Steelworkers Local 1022, reported to work at 7 a.m. but did not report to their workstations, company officials reported.

At 11 a.m., the inability to move products through the plant caused the management to dismiss about one-half of the production workers, until the walkout was settled. At 12:30 p.m., union officials agreed to have the crane-men return to work and to negotiate the disputed issues.

The dispute centered on plans to vacate the crane-men's locker room and to have the crane-men use a central locker room as part of plant consolidation plans, company officials said. They emphasized that other issues also were involved in the dispute.

Negotiations began yesterday and a company spokesman said, "In view of the progress of the negotiations, we are confident the problems will be resolved."

Negotiations also are planned with the Machinists', Patternmakers' and Patternmakers' unions whose members presently are under extensions of their old contracts. Company officials will meet Tuesday with the patternmakers. Talks with the boiler-makers are set Wednesday and Thursday and Machinists' representatives will meet with the company negotiating team on Friday.

The first tap from a company open-hearth furnace took place shortly before midnight Monday.

Gerard Alvarado slammed his way to the eighth grade championship, while Kirk Davis cornered the seventh grade title.

In the faculty division, Tony Betancourt, an art teacher, captured first and Principal Gilbert Walmley ran a close second. Fourteen faculty members participated.

The student tournament was run in the mornings before school in the cafeteria. The faculty tourney was conducted when opponents could get together. It was organized and coordinated by Eric Buehler, physical education coach.

Warriors, Trojans To Meet

The Madison Trojans will travel to Granite City High School for a rematch with the Warriors at 8:15 p.m. Friday. The Trojans will be seeking revenge for their 87-78 overtime defeat by the Warriors on Jan. 4 at Madison.

"Madison is capable of a real good ball game," Warrior Coach Don Detering said. "They proved that when we met them last week. With (Jerry) Belford now on the Madison team this should give them some extra strength on the court."

"We'll be using our normal zone defense against Madison and will of course adjust this if any of their players, like (Ed) Chandler, get hot. Trojan and Warrior fans should see a hard fought contest Friday."

The GCHS junior varsity lost to Madison on Jan. 4 74-70 and they will play at 6:30 p.m. Friday.

"We hope to key on Terry Ripka Friday. We know we can't stop him," Trojan Coach Larry Graham commented. "We'll be playing a zone. I would like to see how their defense but we just do not have the height to make it work."

Devils Paste Red Bud 65-53, Smith Gets 25

Algie Smith contributed 25 points as the Venice High School Red Devils pasted Red Bud 65-53 in a basketball road game Tuesday night.

The Devils led 12-8 after the first period, 32-21 at the half and went into the final stanza with a 46-34 advantage. Venice outshot Red Bud 25 to 21 from the field and 15 to 11 from the free-throw line. Officials called 15 fouls against Red Bud and 14 against Venice.

Central Downs Madison 70-54, Trojans Cold

The number 13 proved unlucky for the Madison High School basketball Trojans Tuesday night at St. Louis Central as they lost their cage tilt 70-54.

The Trojans scored 13 points in each of the first three quarters but trailed 26-13, 45-38 and 62-39 at the end of the period.

Madison dominated the back boards 60-37 but connected with only 28% on field goal attempts, sinking 21. Central tagged 30 field goals.

The Trojans led in charity tosses 12 to 10 as Central committed 17 fouls and the Trojans 12.

Ed Chandler again was cold, held to six points, while Jerry Belford led the Trojans with 17. Other Trojans scoring were Vernell Glasper 10; Terrance Young 8, Anthony Matthews and Sam Bird 6 each and Quincy Canada 1.

"Central was real tough, and being in new territory for the first time seemed to make the team a little uneasy," Coach Larry Graham said. "We had more chances at field goals than Central but our shots were not going in and theirs were."

The defeat put the Trojan record at 6-12.

The Madison cagers will step into Granite City to take on the Warriors Friday night.

The Trojans fought the Warriors overtime on Jan. 4 before GCHS finally managed an 87-78 decision.

Southwestern's Cougars held a 41-40 edge at the half on the strength of Denny Throneburg who paced Coach Jim Dudley's squad with 21 points. Tony Johnson contributed 19 points to the losing effort.

Missouri's Rivermen, now 15-4 for the season with a ninth consecutive victory, took the lead at 42-41 going into the second half, and after tied 50-50, surged ahead to stay.

Car Crash Victim to Leave Hospital Today

Clyde Myers, 1517 Cottage Ave., one of three local people injured in an auto accident on Dec. 21 near Kansas City, Mo., will be released today from Jewish Hospital, St. Louis, where he will require a lengthy convalescent period.
His wife, Lula, who sustained a fractured right arm and dislocated elbow in the crash, was discharged from the hospital three weeks ago.
A second passenger in the vehicle, Mrs. Orpha Shelton, 81, of 2015 Anchorage Street, the mother of Mrs. Myers, remains in a coma at St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was transferred last month from the Kansas City General Hospital.
Mrs. Shelton has not regained consciousness since the accident which occurred on I-70 near Kansas City, about 12:30 p.m. Dec. 21. At that time the local family was enroute to Pueblo, Colo., to attend the funeral of a nephew.
The occupants of the car remained unconscious for two days and nine could remember details of the crash, Mrs. Myers said. Missouri Highway Patrolmen speculated that a puff of fog or patch of ice may have caused Myers to lose control of the vehicle.
The Myers auto plunged from an overpass through a space where a guard rail had been removed after a previous accident, down a 50-foot embankment and landed on a highway below.
Myers, an inspector in the finishing department of General Steel Industries, suffered fractures of the pelvis, ribs and collar bones, among other injuries. He also contracted pneumonia while hospitalized, Mrs. Myers said.
$800 Theft from Shred

Reform System of Campaign Financing -- Lt. Gov. Simon

Lieutenant Governor Paul Simon called for "major, fundamental, enforceable reform of our accepted system of campaign financing" in a major campaign address in Chicago during the weekend.

Simon, favored candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, proposed state tax inducements for small contributors, a shortening of the campaign period and called on Governor Ogilvie to reveal the details of his 1968 campaign expenditures. He spoke at a dinner meeting of the Hellenic Bar Association.

"I said this before I was a candidate, I say it now, I will say it when I am no longer a candidate," Simon asserted. "We must do more to guarantee that office-holding is not restricted to the well-off or the beholden."

"Financially articulate contributors must not be allowed to enjoy an undue influence denied to other citizens. Government must respond to need and not pressure."

"The kind of 'reform' that's asking for publication of the names of campaign contributors is neither practical nor effective," Simon said.

"These states which have tried it -- and the federal government -- have discovered that the contributor wishing to evade the law can easily pass his donation on to a third party who makes the contribution. The law simply doesn't work."

"Meaningful reforms begin with limitation of campaign expenditures. Former Senator Paul Douglas has called the expenses of campaigning 'one of the most corrupting influences of public life.'"

"Candidates in the 1970 mid-term elections reported spending $42.4 million, a record figure for a non-presidential year. The candidates who spent the most for broadcast time won 54% of the races for governor, 57% for senator and 69% for the House of Representatives. That is not a healthy situation."

"Reform must also include encouragement of participation by the small contributor."

"I propose that contributors be given a credit of up to $10 on their Illinois income tax for donations to candidates for statewide office or to political parties with statewide candidates on the ballot."

"I further propose that the Illinois primary election be moved -- starting with the 1974 elections -- from March to May."

Zoning Board Denies Chouteau Garage Request

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals has recommended denial of a request for a special use permit to construct a storage garage and office facilities for the Chouteau Township Highway Department.

The site in question is at 136 Douglas St., Mitchell, and is zoned as an R-4 single-family residence district. The petition was filed by James H. Williams, owner, and James Estes for the township.

The recommendation is to be considered by the County Board of Supervisors at its Feb. 16 meeting.

The zoning board recommended approval of two other area petitions: Kelly Dunko to establish a mobile home park and to rezone agricultural tracts to multiple dwelling, highway business and limited manufacturing districts along old Route 66 from the radio station property to the drainage ditch in Chouteau and Edwardsville Townships.

Chouteau Island Corp. by Samuel B. Murphy, president, to operate a sanitary landfill on Chouteau Island with stipulations that the height of the landfill be limited to two feet above the grade of old Route 66, that adequate permanent drainage, north to south, be provided, and that all sanitary and health requirements be maintained by the operator.

Also marked for approval is the request of Herbert J. Blachoff to rezone an R-3 one-family district tract to M-1 limited to reduce the time and costs of campaigning."

Simon announced moves he had made at the beginning of his campaign "to insure that I am taking on no obligations which would hinder in any way my effectiveness as governor."

"At the beginning of the campaign, I retained an independent auditing firm to oversee all income and expenditures."

"At the outset of the campaign, I also appointed a special citizens' committee to screen all contributions."

"Members of the committee are Stanford Glass, a Chicago lawyer, John Kennedy, former director of the Illinois Department of General Services, and John White, a businessman who is former head of the Better Government Association."

"Potential contributors are being told of my pledge that their generosity will bring them no gain except the knowledge that I am committed to do the very best job possible as governor of all the people of Illinois."

Simon promised to disclose his total expenditures at the end of the campaign as he had done in 1968. That year, he became the first state candidate in Illinois to disclose his expenditures, which were $106,000 for the 1968 race.

"The man I expect to oppose in the fall election has yet to disclose how much was spent in his 1968 campaign, whether at the end of the campaign there was a deficit or a surplus and, whichever it was, how he handled it."

"The reforms I have proposed are first steps forward," Simon said. "I believe that state government should experiment with and pioneer other reforms. This is a national problem on which states can provide leadership."

Simon reported that he has appointed Edward Joyce of Chicago, a certified public accountant and attorney, to work full time on handling contributions and auditing all campaign receipts and expenses.

Simon said a nationally-recognized auditing firm has studied the written procedures developed by his campaign and also has reviewed representative samples of the books and records.

This auditing firm indicates that it should be able to render an unqualified opinion on the financial accounts. Simon will publish at the conclusion of the campaign, he noted.

we care

It takes an expert to grade beef!

In our great country we're lucky.

Our government trains and employs experts...men who inspect and grade beef at hundreds of locations throughout the nation. They protect you...and retailers, like us.

That's why A&P is happy there's a U.S. government inspector on the premises of our meat plant serving this area.

Also important are A&P's own beef experts.

Their job is to see to it that A&P Beef measures up to our own "SUPER-RIGHT" quality standards... standards which don't exactly fit our government's grading categories.

For instance, some beef graded U.S. Choice just doesn't meet our "SUPER-RIGHT" specifications.

No wonder we don't hesitate to guarantee that the "SUPER-RIGHT" Beef you buy will be as flavorful and tender as you think it should be, or your money back.

So, you don't have to become an expert to choose great beef for your family...just shop A&P!

Deceptive Practices Topic of Rotarians

Edward B. Kellogg, executive vice-president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, spoke on "consumer fraud and deceptive practices" at a weekly luncheon of the Granite City Rotary Club Tuesday at the YMCA. He was introduced by Dr. Elwood Ackerman, program chairman. Kellogg reviewed ways some home owners are deceived by salesmen in door-to-door sales campaigns, telephone solicitations and magazine advertisements.

In some instances, a "bait and switch" routine is used, with an appliance advertised as "re-conditioned" shown the customer and then a more costly model substituted. Some repairmen service vehicles, dismantle them after advertising a low-cost remedy and then tell the owner he needs costly parts, the speaker said. Kellogg concluded, "Legitimate businessmen and the Chambers of Commerce throughout the country continue to try and curb such practices." Albert H. Froemling, president, conducted the meeting.

58'ers 4-H Club Holds Valentine Meeting

The 58'ers 4-H Club met Feb. 3 at St. John's United Church of Christ on Nameoki Road. Pledges were led by Cheryl Gertsch and Susan Sigle. Girls replied to roll call by naming their "valentine sweetheart." Members sang "Happy Birthday" to Martha Mueller who celebrates her birthday this month. Various fund raising projects were discussed. Cheryl Gertsch reported on the annual "Share the Fun" event on April 22 at the Weinheimer building in Highland. The 58'ers will practice at the church, for their portion of the program on Thursday, Feb. 17, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. The knitting class also will meet at this time. Mrs. Harriet Bunselmeier and Mrs. Eva Mueller, leaders, distributed the February County 4-H Newsletter from the Extension Office, and announced that the next regular meeting will be March 2 at the church. Demonstrations were presented on "Selecting Your Sewing Tools," by Jeannie Jacks; "Chili," by Anne Bruns; and "Apple Tarts," by Mary Mueller. Talks were given by Joan Hollenbeck, "Who Has the Right-of-Way in Bicycle Riding"; Martha Mueller, "Zipper Care Tips"; and Jayne Matras, "How to Get the Most from Your Meats". Janet Bunselmeier, Joan Hollenbeck, and Janice Mueller, were in charge of recreation. Refreshments of punch and heart shaped cake were served by Susan and Jackie Sigle and Elizabeth Wilson. Others present were Joann Kambitch, Peggy Sanders, Peggy Smolich, Monica Wadlow, Rhondice Wadlow, Nancy Weil, Kathleen Wilson, Mar- ann Yevin, Helen Zelenka and Tina Petrillo.

Tapes, Cassettes Give Records Run for Money

By JUDY HUGG
Copy News Service

Interest in blank tapes and prerecorded tapes, such as cassettes, cartridges and open reel systems, is so great that it is nipping sharply at the heels of the record industry.

Compactness, convenience and the portability of the different types of units are the main reasons for the boom in the marketplace. About five years ago, only 4% of all recorded music in the United States was on tape, the rest on records.

However, with the public's increasing awareness of taped music, the percentage rose to a healthy 33% in 1971 and is expected to go much higher in '72 with the new and improved field.

In order to assist the consumer when shopping for a tape unit, Ampex Corp., which produced the first stereo tapes in 1959 and is today one of the leading suppliers of tape and recording equipment, has released a summary stating the pros and cons of open reel, cassette and cartridge tape formats.

Although the summary is principally concerned with the various available tape formats, it is not meant to exclude the phonograph, which remains by far the most common source of recorded music and will for the foreseeable future.

In some cases, tape systems are substituted for phonographs as the principal music source, but more often tape complements records. Many consumers, from the most demanding hi-fi enthusiasts to the most casual listeners, have found that both tape and records are desirable to maximize listening pleasure.

The type of tape unit you select should depend entirely on the usage and what you demand from it. Each has advantages and disadvantages compared with the other and compared with records.

OPEN REEL

The oldest form of tape music is open reel, or reel-to-reel.

The familiar open reel recorder-player was used for the first stereo music of any kind to be reproduced on a tape system. It has appealed to critical listeners because of its high quality sound reproduction and has become a favorite tool of the serious music lover.

However, the relative complexity of threading tape on reels, and the smaller supply of recorded music available on reels, are its major drawbacks.

One distinct advantage of the open reel tape is the fact that it allows hours of uninterrupted listening enjoyment and permits its owner to "create" as well as "recreate" music and other sounds. "Editing" your own tapes is also possible because the tape may be rapidly advanced or reversed to locate desired selections and it is wide enough to accommodate several tracks of recorded material.

On the modern open reel deck, sound quality is generally equal to the finest of disc and the tape may be noticeably better with each playing. Moreover, stereo separation is more dramatic with the open reel than with records, but its size is a minus compared with cassettes and cartridges.

FOUR-AND EIGHT-TRACK CARTRIDGES

The four-track cartridge (not to be confused with four-channel or quadraphonic recording) is a plastic box about the size of a paperback book and contains a continuous loop of tape. This format has rapidly disappeared in favor of the more widely accepted eight-track unit.

and is not recommended because of the limited availability of recorded music.

The eight-track cartridge is similar in appearance and design to the four-track, except that it records and plays eight parallel tracks of music (four pairs of stereo tracks) instead of four.

A major advantage of the eight-track cartridge is operating convenience. The cartridge is merely inserted in the player and begins to play. The continuous loop of tape inside plays a complete album over and over with only brief interruptions while it switches automatically from one pair of tracks to the next.

A disadvantage of the cartridge format is the sound reproduction cannot approach that of open reel or good quality phonographs. Also because the endless loop design involves constant tape-gain-tape are lubricated to assure smooth operation.

After many playings, however the lubricant may begin to wear, and occasionally the tape will jam in the cartridge. Another disadvantage is the lack of a rapid rewind capability common with open reel and cassette decks, which makes recording and locating individual selections more difficult.

Its primary virtue is convenient playback, and its great success has been in the automobile. It is increasingly used in home and portable applications where playback is the main objective. There is also a larger supply of recorded music currently available in cartridge than cassette and if you are interested in distinct four-channel sound, the cartridge will get there first.

CASSETTES

Cassettes, like cartridges, are no match for open reel systems or phonographs in terms of sound reproduction quality, although there is little difference in sound quality between cassette and cartridges. However, new developments in tape and equipment can significantly enhance the quality of cassette units.

One new development is the Dolby noise suppression system, which modifies the record and playback signal electronically to reduce the amount of hiss or noise. Extended frequency tapes

Information Center on Careers Aids Teenagers

Statistics prove that a teenager who asks "What's for me in the electronics industry?" or "Where can I get training in graphic communications?" is likely to be on a shorter, quicker road to an interesting, well paid job than the high school student who asks, "What college can I get into with my so-so grade average?"

To answer questions (more than 1,300 to date) that teenagers and their parents are currently asking about vocational technical careers, the St. Louis region has a Career Information Center at 10666 St. Charles Rock Road.

"We accept questions by mail or phone," said center director Carrie Walter, "then, after we have looked up the information we mail the answers back. This service, incidentally, is free."

First hand answers to additional questions from teenagers can be obtained at The Career Fair to be held at Kiel Exposition Hall April 25-27. One hundred employers plus about 20 vocational-technical schools will be available at that time to answer questions about both careers and career education available in the region.

The Career Information Center, provided by CEMREL (Central Midwest Regional Education Laboratory), is operating in conjunction with a public information campaign about vocational-technical education being carried on by the St. Louis Regional Industrial Development Corporation (RIDC).

"High school students who have seen RIDC's voc-tech career movie, 'The Choice Is Yours', write us for information about careers they are particularly interested in," Mrs. Walter said. "We get other requests via coupons clipped from a series of advertisements about vocational-technical careers that are being carried by the newspapers of the region as a public service.

"Many of the questions have to do with training facilities; 'Where can I take a night course in electrical engineering technology? Where can I get training in auto body or sheet metal work?'"

"Apparently more and more teenagers are getting the message that you can enjoy a successful career nowadays without having a college degree." Veterans, guidance counselors, teachers and parents also are calling the Career Information Center which has two telephone numbers: 428-3535 (in Missouri) and 388-1100 (in Illinois).

2,354 Veterans Attend Classes at Carbondale

Veterans registered for winter quarter classes at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale total 2,354, according to the Office of Admissions and Records.

Veteran coordinator Mrs. Myra Lopez in the Student Work and Financial Assistance Office said 2,131 of the 2,354 are receiving benefits under Chapter 34 of the G.I. Bill. Mrs. Lopez, who processes applications for education assistance at the Veterans Office, said Chapter 34 does not include disabled veterans, war orphans or dependents of veterans who come under other chapters of the bill.

Mrs. Lopez said the difference between veterans receiving benefits and those registered is because some veterans have exhausted their educational benefits, while while others are saving them for future use or were not in service long enough to be eligible. Some veterans' applications are still being processed, she said.

On a national level, the Veterans Administration reported that last fall 77,000 veterans were using the G.I. Bill while attending college. Eligibility for the G.I. Bill required a veteran to have served on active duty for a continuous period of 181 days or more since Jan. 31, 1955. Educational assistance checks for full-time students (12 hours or more) are $175 per month for single veterans and $205 for married veterans. Married veterans with one child receive $220 and $13 per month for each additional child.

Part-time payments depend on the number of class hours student carries.

Named to Honor Roll

Need Social Security Number to Register

Students at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern are being asked by the registrar's office to know their social security numbers when registering for the spring quarter that opens March 27.

Social security numbers will be substituted for the current student identification numbers consisting of one letter and four digits.

Edward Soliday of the registrar's office said the change is being made to simplify records and reduce mix-ups involving students with similar or identical names.

"Using social security numbers isn't another form of de-personalization," Soliday said. "The students already have identifying numbers—we think using social security numbers will make things easier for everyone concerned."

Registration by appointment for the spring quarter begins Feb. 22. Central registration begins March 23.

Do, Don't Skit Enacted By Future Secretaries

Members of the Granite City High School Future Secretaries Association acted as narrators of the skit.

Following each wrong way of performing in each of these situations, the actors went through the same situation again, the second time showing the proper way of handling the mail visitors, phone calls and taking dictation.

President Karen Romine opened the meeting and introduced the new faculty advisor, Miss Lucille Aramowicz, who has taken the place of Glen Hubbard. Mrs. Judi Sparks, one of the original faculty advisors, will continue to serve.

Senior students who qualify through meeting attendance and grade level will be notified within the next two months in which offices they have been invited to spend a work day during Secretaries Week. Their preferences will be observed for type of office, or company, where possible.

Points for the Miss FSA contest are being accumulated, and the winner will be announced at the close of the contest in May.

Members earn points by attendance at meetings, wearing FSA pins to meetings, attendance at NSA workshops and events, typing FSA material and other means.

The next meeting is set for 3:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 7, in room 213.

Audio-Visual Services Aids SIU-SW Students

When Ronald Yarbrough, instructor in earth sciences at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, became dissatisfied with the results of conventional laboratory methods, he called on the university's Audio-Visual Services.

Under the direction of Elton Madison, Audio-Visual provides several aids to instruction, among them self-instruction laboratory units where students can proceed at their own pace in learning. There are 10 stations for students to use and the lab runs Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Saturday from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

A comparison of grades for the fall quarter with those of the three preceding quarters illustrates the effectiveness of the self-instruction lab, Yarbrough noted. "Many B and C students have moved up the scale and the C range has decreased."

"The lab requires the reading of geologic maps and the understanding of rather difficult concepts of geologic time, rock structure and earth tectonics," Yarbrough said. "Availability of the rocks and minerals in the lab at Audio-Visual enable the slower student to make a higher grade and the faster students to obtain the same knowledge in less time," he explained.

Innovative Staff
No equipment was purchased for the self-instruction, Yarbrough said. "Audio-Visual's staff was innovative. In a cash program, they adapted the lab to the equipment available."

Three instructional video tapes, were incorporated, Yarbrough explained. One introduces students to the equipment. The second discusses charts on minerals, and the third explains the different appearances and temperature effects on rock forms. A cumulative tape is being planned, Yarbrough said, "to see what they (the students) have been learning about use of land locally, for example, in such places as the Alton bluff, Pere Marquette State Park and Horseshoe Lake."

"We laid some eggs last year," Yarbrough said. "The first one was logistical. Some students put off doing their outside lab work and everyone came at once. We put up a large sign-up sheet so there would be some kind of a time schedule."

Mrs. James (Rose) Chiste of Edwardsville finds the self-instruction lab especially convenient. Mrs. Chiste, who gave up her job as a supervisor of the student union operation to become a full-time student, says "rocks and minerals are hard to identify. In the self-instruction lab I can hold the rocks and test them physically, which I can't do in an ordinary classroom situation."

Outside Help
"Sometimes we have to bother the instructor for outside help," Mrs. Chiste said, "but we don't hesitate to use the lab and ask help from student assistants assigned to the project. This kind of lab also means I can arrange my time so that I can be at home when my two children return from school, which is important to me."

Mrs. Chiste pointed out one drawback. "The carrels are small," she said. "If we had bigger areas we could work with a group of five or six students and learn from each other. I hope the university can find money to improve and expand these much-needed services."

Yarbrough referred to Bob Gilligan who runs the self-instruction lab, as an ombudsman last quarter. "He took the students' gripes," Yarbrough said. "Sometimes I would listen outside his door and hear Gilligan take the flack for our mistakes." Gilligan, however, insists the complaints were few.

Yarbrough said the most serious complaint was a humorous one—"my Tennessee hill dialect. I overheard one student say, 'Get his (Yarbrough's) voice off the rock and mineral tape.' A boy who lives 15 miles from my home town in Tennessee had no problem at all," Yarbrough chuckled.

EARTH SCIENCES. Mrs. James Chiste of Edwardsville finds the self-instruction laboratory in Audio-Visual Services at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern helpful in her class in earth sciences.

On Friday, Feb. 11, a television sportscaster (Skip Hinnant) interviews the great football player, Whiz, who plays with a razzle-dazzle style and scores dozens of touchdowns, but is benched for the game because his zipper is broken in a lesson on words containing the letter Z.

Additional educational goals include: sounding out words that contain SH; using the silent E and S (third person singular).

gular); and practice in reading for meaning by using context clues to help figure out unfamiliar words and reading words and sentences that appear on the screen.

Sight words for this show are IF and ZIGZAG.

Judy Graubart sings "If" for a lesson about one of the show's sight words.

Film on Louis XIV To Be Shown Friday

The Rise of Louis XIV, produced in 1965 under the direction of Roberto Rossellini, will be shown at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern at 1:30 p.m. Friday in the Communications Building theater. Admission is free.

The film opens as Cardinal Mazarin is dying. Mazarin advised the 25-year-old king on all political matters. When the cardinal died, Louis' power was threatened by ambitious nobles who took advantage of his inexperience to serve their own ends. The movie documents the decisions and acts by which Louis freed himself from their control.

Actors include Jean-Marie Patte, Raymond Jourdan, Silvana, Katarina Renn, and Dominique Vincent. The dialogue is in French, with English subtitles.

The Rise of Louis XIV is being shown at SIU-SW under the sponsorship of the foreign language and literature department.

Center Proves Valuable in Carer Choices

Miss Beverly Keibel, a senior at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, had been facing the same difficult decision many other students face: Exactly what field to work in, and how to get a job in that field. But Miss Keibel found her answer after hearing about the services offered by the SIU-SW Counseling and Testing Center's educational-vocational information center (EVIC).

Apparently many other students are turning to EVIC as word spreads of the services there, available at no cost.

Terrence Rohen, director of the Counseling and Testing Center, said close to 100 persons per month are visiting EVIC, established last summer.

Miss Keibel, of Collinsville, said, "When I first came to the center I was unsure whether I wanted to teach, be an educational counselor or become a clinical psychologist. I was considering going on to graduate school, too, but I didn't really know how to choose. I needed direction."

Good Example

Rohen said the way Miss Keibel went about using the printed matter, filmstrips, cassettes and professional guidance at EVIC is a good example of how the center is supposed to help.

She began by using the Annual Guides to Graduate Study to learn which colleges and universities have highly-rated programs in her field of interest. That resulted in her writing to several graduate schools for admission forms. Another book at EVIC gave Miss Keibel information she needed about national organizations and foundations offering fellowships for particular courses of study.

"Then I looked through the occupations file in the center," Miss Keibel said. "I discovered by reading and listening to cassettes that the fields of social work and educational counseling overlap in the area of juvenile delinquency, which I've been particularly interested in."

Her discovery led her to her education advisor, Robert Engstrom, and to Robert Ashpole, an assistant professor of sociology. The two faculty members arranged part-time work for Miss Keibel at the Halfway-In House for juvenile delinquents in Belleville.

Work With Delinquents

"Now I'm seeing first-hand what working with juvenile delinquents is like," Miss Keibel said. "It has helped me decide what to do with my life after I finish school."

As a result of the help she received at EVIC, Miss Keibel also registered at the Placement Service. When job opportunities arise in her chosen field, she will be notified.

Rohen said the process is not always so smooth. "Some students we refer directly to EVIC and they need to go further because they come in with realistic perceptions of their interests and abilities."

"But some students simply get confused by learning of all the career choices. They ask questions about themselves such as 'Do I really have the aptitude' or 'Can I leave this area to take a job somewhere else?'"

That's when our staff at Counseling and Testing comes in. The staff is trained to tell when a student is blocked.

Professional Counselor

When a student is blocked, the supervisor on duty at EVIC can guide him across the barrier and into an office of one of the professional counselors at the Counseling and Testing Center.

"If a counselor feels testing is needed to help a student crystallize his abilities, tests are performed, answers are analyzed and their significance is discussed with the student," Rohen said. "Then maybe the student can be sent back to EVIC."

Rohen said all information that students give remains confidential. He said more students are beginning to realize they bear no stigma by asking for vocational guidance.

"Our current program is a pilot and my perception is that it has been very good," Rohen said. "I'm working on a federal grant proposal that would give us money to expand EVIC and take it to high school students and others in the community."

Expand Information
Meanwhile, Mrs. Joyce Parker, a graduate student in psychology who supervises EVIC, is doing her best to expand the information available on a limited budget.

Mrs. Parker, of New Athens, said she is setting up interviews with SIU-SW faculty who will answer questions on tape that students often ask.

"For example, we'll ask a mathematics professor to address himself to the question 'What do I do with a math degree?'" Mrs. Parker said.

Mrs. Parker also is trying to expand EVIC's collection of trade school directories for persons planning to look for a job without a college degree and hopes to obtain more cassettes for the career tape index, a collection of unhearsd interviews with persons in about 100 fields.

"EVIC might be the only place around where someone can hear exactly what it's like to be a disc jockey or a tool and dye maker," Mrs. Parker said. "These interviews often correct misconceptions and erase the glamor, so that the students who come in leave with realistic information."

Pawnee Bill Takes on West At Age of 15

Editor's Note: Pawnee Bill (Gordon W. Lillie) 1860-1942, was known as a showman, friend of the Indian and colonizer. He was a partner of Buffalo Bill in his Wild West show. He fought to save the American bison from extinction. This is another in a series on what famous people were like in their teens.

By BETT ANDERSON
Counsell News Service

Pawnee Bill's real name was Gordon William Lillie. He was born on St. Valentine's Day, 1860, in a sturdy little town in Illinois that he later regarded as Dullsville.

By the time he was 13, he was attending "common school." The schools ran for three months in the winter. Gordon nearly froze in the cold rooms as the wind whistled through the chimneys in the logs.

Gordon was a bright-eyed bushy-tailed teen-ager who longed to go West. By day he read of the "good" Indian exploits of Buffalo Bill. By night he dreamed of seeking his fortune in the raw cow towns along the Chisholm Trail.

He worked in his father's flour mill to make enough money to leave home. Then the mill burned down. To Gordon's joy, his father decided to pack his family in a covered wagon and move to Kansas.

But Kansas was too tame for Gordon. He wanted the real wild and woolly West of the Indian, the trapper. He made friends with some Pawnees camped near his home. They taught him to handle a bow and arrow.

He learned a little of their language. Their blood-curdling tales of buffalo hunts under the big sky made him determined to see for himself. At 15, with his parents' consent, he left home. He was scared but excited.

Gordon Lillie met the West head-on. He didn't slay any dragons but he did have to kill a man in self-defense. He met Wyatt Earp. He saw life in the raw. He often got his sombrero up as a teen-ager's tenderfoot. But he was doing his own thing and he loved it, even the terrible loneliness.

Gordon looked up the Pawnee Indians whom he had known back in Kansas. They practically adopted him. He hunted with them - not only buffalo but hostile Indians such as the Sioux and the Comanche.

He was made a real chief of the Pawnees. Later he was known throughout the West as Pawnee Bill. He became a partner of Buffalo Bill in his spectacular Wild West show. Certainly Gordon Lillie had never expected to meet his boyhood hero face to face. Nor had he ever thought that he, himself, would become a part of the legend of the West.

SOUL FOOD DINNER. Chris Schuneman of Alton, left, tries to explain what chitterlings taste like to Elzora McKinney and Anne Flowers of East St. Louis at the soul food dinner held in Edwardsville at Jessie's Cafe. The dinner was in connection with a class of cultural differences of minority groups taught at SIU-SW by Rudolph Wilson for teachers.

'Soul Food' Dinner Served

Stress Inner-City Life In Course at SIU-SW

"That was a great meal except I can't take those chitterlings," a student in a class held for future teachers Thursday at Jessie's Cafe in Edwardsville said.

It was not a course in cooking and the lack of classroom space at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern had not forced the class to move to Jessie's Cafe.

The "soul food" dinner was one of many new experiences for students in a course labeled Cultural Differences in Inner City Teaching, taught by Rudolph Wilson, a lecturer in the secondary education department.

Wilson said the "soul food" dinner was another way of helping students, not all of whom will teach, to understand the cultural differences among minorities, especially the Afro-American culture.

The menu consisted of chitterlings (hog intestines), Louisiana chicken, rice and gravy, black-eyed peas, collard greens, candied yams, cornbread, and sweet potato pie for dessert.

Demand, Price Up

Wilson explained to the class and several members of the faculty who visited the session with their families, that whites used to give chitterlings away for free, until black people discovered their nutritional value and as the demand increased, so did the price.

He said it is customary for the black family to eat chitterlings on New Year's Day, to bring luck and make the first meal the poorest meal, so the meals would be better throughout the year.

Wilson explained it is extremely important for teachers to be aware of and understand the customs, language, literature and educational philosophies of minority students and their families.

"With the desegregation of schools and the movement of minorities to the suburbs, Wilson said, "all teachers should have a background on the cross-cultural ramifications of teaching methods."

Inner City Schools

"In this course," Wilson said, "was designed for the inner city schools of the area and includes Mexican-American and Jewish cultural differences." He said students will visit several local minority churches and will be visited by a member of the Jewish faith, to help them understand the role of religion in the various cultures.

The class is made up of graduate and undergraduate students. Most of the graduate students are teaching in all-white schools.

"I took the course on the recommendation of another student," Bill Reimers of Granite City said, "because I am majoring in urban planning and I need to know more about the people of the inner city."

Chris Schuneman of Alton, a business major, plans to be a salesman, but has found everything, except the chitterlings, to be "just fine."

Initial Offering

This is the first quarter the course, developed by Wilson, has been offered. He said next quarter several new things will be added.

"Past experience in my other classes dealing with cultural differences," Wilson said, "shows that white students rule out the inner city schools for prospective jobs, because of fear and lack of understanding."

He said a number of his former students are now employed in the East St. Louis and St. Louis inner schools. He has worked with student teachers from SIU-SW who were assigned to the predominantly black schools.

Wilson is a California native. He received his B.A. degree from Los Angeles State College and an M.A. degree from Claremont Graduate School. He is

Co-op Program at Rolla Helps Finance Students

Work a semester, go to school for a semester. Be a full-time employee in industry for a semester, attended classes for a semester.

About 475 engineering and science students at the University of Missouri-Rolla are helping to finance their college educations this way.

"It usually takes an extra year for a co-operative training program student to earn his bachelor of science degree," says Prof. Ed Vaughn, director of UMR's co-op program. "But there are two very practical advantages to the program that make the extra year worthwhile."

"Most participating students find they can save enough money from their full-time work periods to pay a large percentage of their educational expenses. And the experience they get by working for these companies is invaluable when they have earned their degrees and are looking for a job."

Pick Tax Firms With Caution, Public Urged

Mrs. Mary Sedekum, chairman of the Tax Information Council of the United States Area Chamber of Commerce, today urged area taxpayers to be cautious in the selection of a tax preparation firm if it is necessary to use a professional service preparing an income tax return.

She noted that the Federal Trade Commission has provisionally accepted a consent order which prohibits one such firm from making certain advertising claims.

The firm in question has signed a consent order agreeing not to engage in practices which were the subject of the FTC complaint, while not specifically admitting it has engaged in any wrongdoing. The consent order will become final if there are no objections during the 30-day period which follows the FTC acceptance.

According to Mrs. Sedekum, the complaint alleged that, despite the fact that the firm's advertising, it does not reimburse a taxpayer for all payments he must make in addition to his initial tax payment if the additional payment is the result of an error made in preparation of the return.

Mrs. Sedekum said the FTC complaint in addition alleged that the firm's personnel are not certified to practice before the Internal Revenue Service in the event that a customer's tax return is audited.

"In a bulletin issued by the Council of Better Business Bureaus, consumers are warned to be wary of firms which make misleading claims and also any firms which use tax return information for other purposes without the customer's consent," Mrs. Sedekum noted.

Americans Considering Moving to Australia Are Writing to Granite for Information

A new service to Americans interested in emigrating to Australia is being offered through the United States by a Granite City woman, who is serving as the U. S. representative for Aust Amer a Proprietary Limited of Sydney.

A classified advertisement in the San Francisco Examiner, dated Jan. 28, which describes the service, was mailed to the Press-Record by a former local resident now living on the West Coast.

Amsted to Acquire New Firm by End of Month

Chicago-based Amsted Industries has announced that acquisition of the business of Glamorgan Pipe and Foundry Co. is expected to be consummated prior to the end of this month.

Joseph B. Lanterman, Amsted's chairman, made the announcement after the Justice Department's petition for a temporary injunction to prevent the acquisition was denied in the U. S. District Court in Chicago.

Lanterman said the cash purchase price cannot be exactly determined at this time but that it would be less than $8,000,000.

The proposed acquisition was announced in August, 1971 when an agreement in principle was reached by the two companies.

Glamorgan's sales during 1971 were about $25,000,000. Its 155,000 square foot plant facilities cover a nine-acre site in Lynchburg Va., producing ductile and cast iron pressure pipe, soil pipe, fittings for those products, and plastic pipe for water transmission. It employs nearly 600 people.

American Steel Foundries of Granite City is among Amsted Industries.

The letter writer, who has vacationed in Australia and hopes to return there for another visit, expressed interest in the source of the announcement.

Similar advertisements concerning the service were placed in many metropolitan newspapers, according to Mrs. News.

Questions vary, but most prospective emigrants want to know what is available in their particular line of work, salary schedules and comparative living expenses, Mrs. Strawn said.

The information is processed by Americans living in Australia who present a viewpoint and answer possibly different in scope than the general information which is available with out cost from the Australian consulate or similar official sources, the Aust Amer representative pointed out.

"We are in the business of selling personal information about Australia," she said. Response has been "very good," she added.

W. (Carol) Strawn, 2836 Delmar Ave., who represents the Aust Amer firm.

The service offers to provide a "comprehensive, informative booklet of frank opinions" about the "Americans in Australia" and the answers to four personal, specific questions: ... about living in Australia (job opportunities, housing, cost of living, etc.) ... upon receipt of $10.

Mrs. Strawn said there is "plenty of demand for such information." There are nine or 10 "roving ambassadors" about the U. S., plus the Australian Kangaroo Club on the West Coast, furnishing emigration advice, she added.

Inquiries are mailed to a Granite City post office box number, listed in the advertisement, and then forwarded by Mrs. Strawn to Sydney, where research work is accomplished to provide answers to specific questions.

"We are in the business of selling personal information about Australia," she said. Response has been "very good," she added.

Anti-Pollution Units Operating At Power Plant

Equipment expected to remove up to 90.9% of the particulates from flue gases from the 100,000-kilowatt No. 4 generating unit at Illinois Power Company's Wood River Power Plant now is in operation.

This electrostatic precipitator is a part of a catalytic oxidation system designed to remove not only the particulates from flue gases, but also sulfur oxides.

The electrostatic precipitator is operating in conjunction with a mechanical dust collector which was installed when the generating unit was built in 1954, upgraded in 1967 and renovated recently. The mechanical collector removes about 90% of the particulates from flue gases which then pass to the electrostatic precipitator for further cleaning.

Equipment for the removal of sulfur oxides from flue gases is expected to be in operation in June.

The Wood River installation is the first commercial application of the Cat-Ox system developed by Monsanto Enviro-Chem Systems, Inc. The $7.3 million cost of the installation is being shared by Illinois Power Co. and the Office of Air Programs of the Federal Environmental Protection Agency.

During 1970, an electrostatic precipitator was installed on the 400,000-kilowatt No. 5 Unit at Wood River Power Plant. The other three generating units will be converted to burn oil, with this work scheduled for completion in 1973.

Booklets Explain Pheasant, Rabbit, Squirrel Recipes

Copley News Service

Springfield — As the wife of every hunter knows, the fun really only starts after the Great Hunter has bagged some thing and brought it home. He then retires to the basement to put away the hunting gear and plan the next trip, waiting for savory smells to come from the kitchen — where his wife is probably staring blankly at a moose or a grouse or a cottontail, and wondering why Julia Child is never around when you need her.

Probably whole throngs of people are turned off wild game each year, after eating some improperly prepared. As every hunter's wife—and every hunter—should know, what is sauce for the corn-fed beef from the supermarket is a cry from the right sauce for venison.

To help the harried housewife, the Illinois Department of Conservation has issued several little pamphlets which give facts of life about such common quarry as cottontail rabbits, squirrels and ringneck pheasant. After describing them, telling how to encourage production of more of them, and how to best hunt them, the publications wind up with some simple recipes on how to cook them once you've got them.

Unlike some other states, Illinois does not market a complete cookbook of fish and game recipes. Financial restrictions and department regulations prohibit that, says James Lockart of the department's division of wildlife resources.

But by addressing a request to the department, the cook who's long on rabbit but short on recipes can receive directions for baked rabbit, or hare, or pheasant.

Things really get gourmet when you request the ringneck pheasant pamphlet. Recipes on that brochure include Casserole of Pheasant, South Dakota baked pheasant, roast pheasant with wild rice, and pheasant with trout.

And they're all free.

Progress Made by State In Coping With Welfare Costs -- Gov. Ogilvie

By GOVERNOR RICHARD B. OGILVIE

When you're on a long, hard hike with a heavy load, it's good to see the end of the road—even if it's still far away. That's the way I feel about the crisis in providing funds for welfare in Illinois.

In October, we projected that funds for the blind, the disabled and young children would run out in May—that we faced a deficit situation of nearly $107 million.

But states can't run with deficits like the federal government. And they can't make payments when appropriations have been exhausted.

You can take my word for it that we have worked on this problem here and in Washington with every single bit of logical argument and administrative skill we could muster. Meanwhile, the case loads soared through every existing ceiling — we counted an increase of more than 200,000 persons in just one year's time. It was surely a case of being between the rock and the hard place.

Three developments have had or will have significant impact on the untenable position we were in. First — despite litigation and decisions which temporarily slowed down our reforms — we have made progress in Cook County.

Half — not

The problems there are, numerous, but one of the worst was the paying of far too many welfare recipients from so-called General Assistance accounts, for which the state picks up a $300 million bill. There isn't one cent of federal money in general assistance, and only 10¢ local funding, leaving the state with the rest of the load.

We had definitely concluded very early in the budget that many persons totally eligible for federally-assisted programs were, in fact, getting general assistance funds.

For each of these persons moved to the proper program, we could cut our expenditures in half — not counting the savings to be made by the complete removal from welfare of ineligible persons on general assistance.

So the state now screens each applicant for general assistance, and is intensively reviewing all general assistance cases.

The proof's in the pudding, as they say — and I am pleased with this result: For February Cook County officials are requesting only $5.3 million, compared to $9.6 million just three months ago.

The second development is a provision of $1 billion in the President's new budget, of which Illinois will get about $60 million.

When I went to Washington last week to testify before the Senate Finance Committee, I expected a polite reception — no more. But the committee chairman, Sen. Long of Louisiana, and one of the ranking members, Sen. Ribicoff, kept me in the witness chair three times as long as I had been scheduled.

Their questions were basically friendly to the states, and each in his own way showed awareness of the honest efforts of the states like Illinois to cut costs, root out abuses, and try to relieve the states of the burden which are not permanently helpless.

I won't flatly predict what their action of the whole Senate — will be. But I do feel more hopeful that Sen. Percy's proposal — or Sen. Ribicoff's effort in a similar vein — will be adopted in time to give us the help we need.

And I am hopeful, too, that my determination to cut the payments of helpless persons only as a last resort will be realized.

This is to be an advance on next year's funds, but it gives us optimism about the next few months.

It represents the culmination of months of negotiations with federal officials, and the considerable assistance of Sen. Charles Percy.

Sen. Percy is also instrumental in the third development — the proposal that the federal government this year pick up the first 20% of increased state costs, compared to last year's costs.

Social Disease Gains, Setbacks In State Listed

Copley News Service

Springfield — Apparently, Illinois will win a few and lose a few in the fight against venereal disease, when the 1971 official totals are gathered.

Provisional 1971 totals gathered by the state's Department of Public Health indicate the state will show 6,367 cases of syphilis is reported with the year in the state, a figure up substantially from the 5,200 cases reported for 1970, and nearly up to the 1969 total of 6,725.

However, unofficial indications are that the totals on gonorrhea will be down, from 51,685 in 1970 to 47,890 in 1971.

Gonorrhea can sometimes be drastically reduced by an intensive screening process, and such an undertaking has been tried in Chicago. Since 1968 there, patients coming to city clinics and hospitals for many reasons other than VD are also given a routine culture check for the venereal disease.

Last year, it was reported that 56,387 persons were checked and 8,736 of these were found to have gonorrhea.

The tests enabled health workers to detect the disease in females who had shown no symptoms. By follow-ups on their contacts, an overall decrease of 14% in cases was tallied in the first nine months of last year in Chicago.

In the same period, the national totals rose by 9%, indicating that enough intensive screening might significantly reduce the overall case totals.

As in the past, the biggest number of both syphilis and gonorrhea were reported in Chicago, as compared to the rest of the state.

The provisional figures provided by Philip Wactor of the department of public health show 1,802 of the cases of syphilis reported in 1971, compared to 1,745 for Chicago. For gonorrhea, downtown cases, officially, were 10,547, compared to 37,343 for Chicago.

Though both diseases can be cured by penicillin, the numbers of cases have con-

New School Dress Code Adopted by GC Board

The Granite City Board of Education adopted a dress code for the public schools in the district to regulate health, safety and welfare of students and assure them of their rights to an education free from disruption and disturbance during its meeting Monday night.

The revised code was designed to refrain from violating constitutional rights of students as set by state and federal courts and was drawn following consultations with members of the Granite City High School Student Council.

The board's resolution provides for rules and regulations concerning the dress and appearance of students as may be necessary to deter health and sanitation problems or problems which might endanger the physical safety of any of the students within the school and to protect the right of a free education without disruption from either outside or inside influence.

Temporary disciplinary action may be taken for willful violations.

Length of Hair

It was pointed out that length and cleanliness of hair be subject to a reasonable limitation as some students are engaged in shop work where machinery is used and others are engaged in preparation for service or consumption of food.

Modesty and avoidance of distracting influences are to be the key to dress. Prohibited are the nude look, see-through or peek-a-boo modes, revealing fashions, cut or torn clothing, undergarments worn as outer wear and styles which exaggerate or call attention to anatomical details.

More Park Areas To Be Available

Copley News Service

Springfield — Illinois park officials are hopeful that several park areas can be opened to the general public at least for limited use this spring and summer.

Ronald D. Johnson, supervisor of the Division of Parks and Memorials in the Conservation Department, said plans are under way to open some of the Weinberg-King Park near Augusta, in the Hancock-Schuyler County area.

Johnson said 600 acres for the park were donated by families in the area and the Conservation Department has purchased additional lands to make the park total 661 acres.

"We are hopeful that this park can be opened for limited use," Johnson added.

More areas of the giant Goose Lake Prairie Park in Grundy County are slated to be opened to the public some time this year.

High school students in the area have been helping park rangers place the site in shape for its natural prairie condition. The students' work has been picking out woody bushes and other growth which is believed not connected with the prairie.

The park was developed under the idea that the area was the last remaining section of virgin soil in Illinois.

Work has been done on the main road leading into the park and the park officials are anticipating large use of the park once it is completed.

Johnson said plans also are progressing on possible construction of a visitor center for Goose Lake Park. The exact cost of the center has not been completely determined.

Johnson said all of the underdeveloped park lands and boat launching areas has been completed at the Rend Lake park between Benton and Mount Vernon.

He is hopeful that some sections of the park can be opened this year.

The park is being developed in conjunction with formation of the huge Rend Lake in Southern Illinois. Not only will the lake provide outdoor recreation facilities; it will also serve as a water supply for communities in a four-to-five-county area.

Balloting Seen on Vote Machine Building

The Madison County Board of Supervisors may call a referendum on a proposed voting machine storage-service center during its regular meeting Wednesday morning.

Voting would be at the March 21 primary elections, and voters would be asked to spend about $200,000 for the building.

The expenditure is listed in the county budget, but Marshall Smith, the board's legal adviser, insisted that spending the money without a referendum would be unlawful unless the board re-establish a public building commission.

Such a commission was abolished by the board last fall after it operated for a year.

The county's 400 voting machines now are located in rented buildings in Alton, Edwardsville and Granite City.

A new metal structure is proposed at the old county nursing home grounds at Edwardsville. But two members of the board, Paul Ribicoff of Jarvis Township and Ted Bennett of Edwardsville Township, have suggested that they be placed in missile silos at the old Marine Nike site recently acquired by the county.

San Diego Mayor Ready for Any Convention Troubles

By FRANK MACOMBER
Copley News Service

San Diego — Young Americans who come here during the Republican National Convention next August will be welcome so long as they behave themselves. But if there should be trouble, law enforcement authorities will be ready to put it down, hopefully with a minimum of violence.

These are the thoughts of San Diego's new mayor, 38-year-old Pete Wilson, a Republican who gave up his seat in the California Legislature to seek out and win a nonpartisan job.

Asked if he anticipates any serious trouble, perhaps violence, from antiwar groups or other dissenters during the convention, Wilson replied: "People who want to come here for the convention and be peaceful have nothing to be apprehensive about. But they should make certain they are not exploited by the professional troublemakers and provoked into violence."

In an interview Wilson said he anticipates a "healthy" federal grant from the Justice Department to help finance police training and other convention security measures.

Inquiries Steady On Master Degree Nursing Program

At least one inquiry a day has been received about a master's degree program in nursing at Southern Illinois University-Springfield since news of its approval by the SIU Board of Trustees was announced last month, Mrs. Carl Flottman, director of the proposed program, says.

"With our present facilities, we can accept only 10 applications for the fall of 1972," Mrs. Flottman said, pointing out that sanction of the program must come from the Illinois Board of Higher Education before the program can be implemented.

Dean Lucille McClelland predicts 30 graduates from the program within five years.

"Nurses already established in the area are keenly interested in improving their academic stature but either don't want to be uprooted from their ties to Southern Illinois or can't afford to be," Mrs. Flottman said.

In 1968 the Illinois Study Commission on Nursing reported 88% of the 34,000 nurses working in Illinois had little or no education beyond a high school diploma. Ten per cent had baccalaureate degrees and two per cent had master's degrees. The commission recommended that by 1980 six institutions of higher education should offer master's preparation in nursing. Today there are four, all located in the Chicago area.

"Expansion of baccalaureate and junior college nursing programs is creating an unprecedented demand for teachers of nursing," Mrs. Flottman pointed out. "There is a need for nurse researchers, nursing teachers, clinicians and managers. These positions require a master's degree. It is also a need to upgrade health and nursing care."

"Offering master's degrees at SIU-SW will encourage nurses to stay in this area," Mrs. Flottman said. "If they have to go to other areas for advanced study, they will tend to remain in those areas, and we need them here."

Quick GOP Meet
Meanwhile, President Nixon apparently has cleared the way for a "quickie" three-day GOP convention by indicating he wants Vice President Spiro Agnew for his running mate a second time.

If the President had left the door open as to the choice of a vice presidential candidate, a floor fight over the second spot on the Republican ticket could have delayed the convention at least a day and perhaps longer, convention officials point out.

Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., chairman of the Republican National Committee, said last month convention planners are aiming at a wrap-up of the presidential and vice presidential nominations, acceptance speeches and adoption of a 1972 Republican platform in the space of 72 hours.

Fires Cause $567,000 Damage Here in 1971

Fires in Granite City caused an estimated $567,440 damage to buildings, their contents and to motor vehicles during 1971, according to the Granite City Fire Department's annual report presented to the city council Monday night.

The loss represented a $14.05 per capita loss for all residents in the city. Damage included $321,455 to buildings, $231,010 to contents and $14,975 to motor vehicles, according to the report, which was presented by Fire Chief Earl Fronabarger.

Firemen responded to 675 calls during the year, including 229 to building fires, 93 to motor vehicle fires, 164 rubbish and weed fires, 17 inhalator runs, 76 false alarms, and 96 others, including rescue and industrial calls, it was reported.

The fire damage estimated does not include losses to industrial plants.

In addition the firemen inspected and checked the galleys, flow and pressure of all fire hydrants and checked for fire hazards at all schools and stores and many churches and fraternal buildings in the city, the report concluded.

THE AMERICAN ROAD LIFESAVER

Giles-Dettmer Wedding At Anaheim, California

An out-of-town wedding of interest here was that of Miss Christine Ann Dettmer, a daughter of Mrs. Thomas L. King of Huntington Beach, Calif., and Fred G. Dettmer of Granite City, and Robert Porter Giles III, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Giles Jr. of Piedmont, Calif.

The ceremony took place Jan. 29 at St. Michael's Episcopal Church in Anaheim, Calif.

Given in marriage by her step-father, Thomas L. King, the bride selected a gown of layered ivory English silk illusion and net. The bodice was adorned with lace medallions embroidered with seed pearls, and her chapel veil of ivory silk illusion was held in place with a bandeau of ivory lace etched with tiny pearls.

The bride carried a silk lace wedding handkerchief that once belonged to her late great-grandmother, Mrs. Christine Evans of Granite City. Her bridal bouquet was an arrangement of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Gert Willinger, a sister of the groom, matron of honor, was attired in a gown of robin egg blue trimmed with ivory lace. She carried a bouquet of blue mums and purple statice.

The groom was attended by Stephen Hogan as best man. Ushers included Aaron Yaras, Steele Willinger and Todd L. King, the bride's brother.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at Huntington Harbour Beach Club in Huntington Beach. The rehearsal dinner was given in the Percival Room of the Royal Coach Inn at Anaheim, Calif., on the evening preceding the wedding.

After a wedding trip to Carmel, Calif., the couple will make their home in Oakland where the bride is an assistant buyer for Capwell Department Store. The bridegroom is an employee of the Santa Fe Railroad.

A champagne brunch honoring out-of-town guests was held at the Newport Inn, Newport Beach on Sunday, Jan. 30.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Evans, grandparents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. David G. Evans, uncle and aunt of the bride, all of

MR. AND MRS. JOHN RITCHIE, lifelong residents of Granite City, who will observe their golden wedding anniversary Sunday at a reception at Calvary Baptist Church.

Mr., Mrs. John Ritchie Mark 50th Anniversary

Lutheran Ladies to Deliver Gift Boxes

Every patient at Alton State Hospital will receive a "Lutheran Ladies Christian Love Box" on Friday. The Lutheran women plan to deliver 575 special boxes tomorrow to the hospital.

Up to this year, area Lutheran churches, including those in Granite City, provided Christmas gift boxes. The project was coordinated by Mrs. Margaret Eller of Zion Lutheran Church of Bethalto and Mrs. Marjorie Dintelmann, volunteer services coordinator.

Together with Hospital Chaplain Warren Wyrick, they proposed moving the project up to St. Valentine's Day time to brighten the long mid-winter days and to change the name of the program to "Christian Love Boxes." Many staff members felt the gifts will be more appreciated at this time because so many events take place at the hospital during the Christmas season.

Homemade cookies, candy, other food items and sundry articles were delivered earlier this week to the Bethesda Church. The church women plan to complete packing the boxes today in order to meet Friday's delivery date.

Mrs. Eller, who is in charge of the project again this year, said each box will be marked appropriately for a man or woman. In the past four years, Chaplain Wyrick said the Lutheran ladies have provided a total of 4,100 "Christmas Boxes."

Should an excess of boxes occur, the remaining gift packages will be distributed at local nursing homes by Lutheran pastors as in previous years, the chaplain said.

Participating in the project are Lutheran churches in Granite City, Wood River, Belleville, Bunker Hill, Mount Olive, Highland, Red Bud, Hillsboro, Millstadt, Mascoutah, Collinsville, Litchfield, Carlyle, Wood, Columbia, Carlinville, Gillespie, Alton, Bethalto, Cottage Hill, Godfrey, Troy, O'Fallon, Dorsey, East St. Louis, Jerseyville, Greenville, Carpenter, Hamel, Staunton and Edwardsville.

WCTU Chapter To Donate Books

Mrs. Pearl Campbell spoke on the devotional topic, "When We Are Disappointed," at a meeting Friday evening of the Women's Christian Temperance Union held in the home of Mrs. Nannie Meadows, 2218 Illinois Ave.

Mrs. Bethel Davis, president, opened the meeting by leading the group in song and Mr. Alice Bates gave the salute, to the flags.

Reports were submitted by Mrs. Verna Willmott, secretary, Mrs. Genevieve Willmott, treasurer and Mrs. Glenn Cundiff. It was announced that Christian books will be placed in the Granite City Public Library in memory of deceased WCTU members.

Get-well cards were sent to Marvin Barnes, Mrs. Ruth Lucas and the Rev. Campbell. Plans to hold a county clinic in March at Wood River were discussed.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses to those named and to Mrs. Leona Fisher, Miss Norma Chesterman, Miss Elva Miller, Owen Willmott and Mrs. Olga Tierney.

MACEDONIAN-BULGARIAN LADIES AUDIT BOOKS

The board of directors of the Macedonian-Bulgarian Ladies Aid Society met in the home of Mrs. Tomea Kirchoff, 48 Janday Lane, during the weekend to audit the society's financial reports and review the by-laws.

Those attending were auditing committee members, Mrs. Neveka Kacaleff, Mrs. Kirchoff and Mrs. Mary Natseff. Also present were Mesdames Mary Andria, Milka Vassileff, Helen Hinterser and Elizabeth Malincheff.

An employee of Illinois Power Co., Mr. Rongey entered the hospital Friday. He is a patient in Room 248.

PLANETARY ORBITS

A study of the motion of Mars by the 17th Century astronomer Johannes Kepler is the basis of modern views on planetary orbits.

Regional Report--Developer Hired, Hospital Need Studied, Transit Revision Proposed

(Illinois Metro-East Industrial Development Corporation)

After an intensive nine-month search, the Illinois Metro-East Industrial Development Corporation selected Richard Dykes, 32, as its first executive director. Dykes, a graduate of Purdue University with a degree in civil engineering, will direct economic development activities within Madison-St. Clair-Monroe counties of the locally-based, not-for-profit corporation.

The new executive director has just completed post-graduate work at the University of Illinois. Earlier, he was employed by Illinois Power Co. in Decatur for seven and a half years, with most of this spent at an industrial development engineer. Dykes, his wife, son and daughter will move from Oak Park, a Chicago suburb, to this region.

The employment of Dykes follows a successful fund drive. The money, along with Dykes' efforts, will be used to advance the economic development of Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties. For the first five years of its existence, the corporation operated with volunteer help, aided by SIU-SW.

In related news, the Illinois Metro-East Industrial Development Corp. and the Council of Contractors Association are distributing a report concerning potential construction problems caused by soil deposits in Madison and St. Clair counties.

The report, "Some Geologic Factors Affecting Construction in the Metro-East Area," was prepared by Kent M. Bratton, a graduate student in the Earth Science Department at SIU-SW.

A committee of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council's Reform of Government Task Force has recommended that the Bi-State Development Agency be absorbed by the Gateway Council. Leo H. Konzen of Granite City, chairman of the committee, said the move is necessary to restore public confidence in the metropolitan public transit system and could be accomplished by amending the interstate compact with Bi-State.

The amendment, subject to approval by the legislatures of Illinois and Missouri and by Congress would result in participation by elected officials and minority group representatives in overseeing management of the public transit system.

In related regional news, the Chamber of Commerce of Metropolitan St. Louis, concerned with declining tonnage at the port of St. Louis, asked the Gateway Council to make a comprehensive study of river traffic and port facilities.

The study, which would consider business conditions, land use near the river, port management and organizational policies and practices, would cover facilities from northern Madison County to southern Jefferson County.

The Council ordered its staff to prepare an outline of the scope of a port study and to see what federal and local financing could be found for it. Construction of 50 modular apartments, part of a state-sponsored pilot housing program for low-income families, will start in Brookline this spring after sites are selected.

The Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs has been working for more than six months with Brookline Mayor George Thomas on getting the housing approved by the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. The units are part of the Illinois Pilot Program for Low Income Families.

General Telephone Company's 1972 construction program includes $105,572 for the Marissa area. About 100 multi-parter customers will be converted to suburban service in the Marissa exchange by the end of the year.

In general area news, a bill creating a Missouri-St. Louis Authority passed the Missouri legislature and was signed by Gov. Warren Hearnes.

Plans for a $98 million expansion program that city officials say will enable Lambert Field to handle increased passenger traffic until 1980 were disclosed by A. J. Cervantes.

The Southwestern Illinois Hospital Planning Council voted 8-5 that a proposed 125-bed hospital for central Madison County is not needed. The new $14 million wing of St. Elizabeth Hospital in Granite City was dedicated formally and named the Doctor's Wing.

The Illinois Law Enforcement Commission awarded nearly a half-million dollars in grants for crime prevention and control in East St. Louis.

And the Interstate Commerce Commission has postponed merger of the Illinois Central Railroad with the Gulf, Mobile & Ohio Railroad indefinitely.

Miss Cho Wins Piano Contest at Milwaukee

Miss Young Bang Cho, 18, a former Granite City High School student, won first place in piano competition Sunday in Milwaukee.

The competition was sponsored by the Piano Teachers National Association and included youths from seven midwestern states.

It was the third of a series of contests in which Miss Cho participated. The local competition was held at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern and the regional contest was at Illinois State University.

Miss Cho will compete for national honors in March at Portland, Ore. She visited the Donald MacDonalds at her former home here before returning to Baltimore, Md., her present home.
